

ATLAS Future Events

In this BULLITIN we would like to give you an update of the future events of ATLAS. As you can see ATLAS is very active in the near future!!

ATLAS WEBINAR

Tourism in the Shadow of Neoliberalism: Tracing (IM)Mobilities and Alienation in the Contemporary Metropolis

By Dimitri Ioannides

17 October, 2017

15.00 – 16.15 (CET)

The speech will be 45 minutes and there will be 30 minutes for Q&A. The webinar is hosted by the University Rovira i Virgili, Vila-seca, Tarragona (Spain). Participation is free. But since there are a limited number of people who can join this webinar we will give priority to people working at ATLAS member institutions. Therefor please indicate your institution on the application form.

http://www.atlas-euro.org/webinar_2017_ioannides/tabid/289/language/en-US/Default.aspx#index

ATLAS SIG Space, Place, Mobilities in Tourism meeting

Mobilities and body at play

Tarragona, Spain

17-18 October, 2017

The recently created SIG 'Space, Place, Mobilities in Tourism' convenes a first international workshop. This workshop will gather a group of researchers presenting key advances into the understanding and analysis of relational processes and bodily performances shaping and negotiating (tourist) places.

<http://www.atlas-euro.org/Default.aspx?TabID=275>

ATLAS Middle East Tourism and Hospitality

Dubai, United Arab Emirates

16-18 January, 2018

We are happy to announce the First ATLAS Middle East Conference – a special Tourism and Hospitality Track of the 4th International ERPBSS Conference at Middlesex University Dubai. The tourism and hospitality track aims to provide a forum for international educators, scholars, researchers, industry professionals, policy-makers, and graduate students to evaluate emerging paradigms and discuss pioneering practices within the broader tourism and hospitality field. We are seeking conceptual and/or empirical-based papers that seek to address the changing nature of the tourism and hospitality industries. This track will thus attempt to foster progressive approaches within tourism and hospitality studies, rather than to simply reproduce well-rehearsed empirical models and conceptual applications. The overall aim of this track is to present a new agenda for future research and theoretical exposition.

<http://www.mdx.ac.ae/erpbss2018/tourism-and-hospitality>

ATLAS SIG Dark Tourism meeting

Dark Tourism and Higher Education

Amsterdam, Netherlands

February 2018

Information will be available soon. If you would like to show your interest in this event, please contact us.

admin@atlas-euro.org

ATLAS SIG Gastronomy and Tourism meeting

New approaches for providing customer experiences in gastronomy tourism

Bergamo, Italy

21-23 February, 2018

The Tourism and Gastronomy Group has been running since 2000. Expert meetings have taken place in Portugal, France, Italy and Spain and has produced a number of publications, including the Tourism and Gastronomy volume (Routledge, 2002). Most members of this Special Interest Group (SIG) are involved in research in this subject in their local /regional area. During the meetings the aim has been to present good practices of this subject area, discuss our current research and to identify opportunities for joint research as well as other co-operative initiatives.

<http://www.atlas-euro.org/Default.aspx?TabID=282>

ATLAS SIG Cultural Tourism meeting

Participatory culture and new challenges for tourism: Responses to the challenges of mass cultural tourism

Barcelona, Spain

12-13 April, 2018

This expert meeting will gather in Barcelona a group of researchers presenting contributions which address the conference themes from a range of subject fields including, but not limited to; leisure studies, tourism, geography, cultural studies, sociology, gender studies, ethnic and racial studies, and social and anthropology of tourism. The aim of the meeting is to propose key advances into the understanding and analysis of the relationship between tourism and cultural heritage.

<http://www.atlas-euro.org/Default.aspx?TabID=284>

ATLAS Latin America conference 2018

Universidad Autónoma "Benito Juárez"

Oaxaca, Mexico

June 2018

Information will be available soon. If you would like to show your interest in this event, please contact us.

admin@atlas-euro.org

ATLAS Annual Conference 2018

Destination Dynamics

Copenhagen, Denmark

25-28 September, 2018

Welcome to Copenhagen, a bustling Nordic capital experiencing increasing tourism numbers through a strong brand combining liveability, sustainability, food, design and diversity. Also, it is a destination which has declared war against "tourism as we know it" – at least in the newly launched and much-famed DMO strategy, Localhood. During the conference, we will get a first-hand look at how very different actors work together to develop tourism for the benefit of the destination, locals and tourist and also discuss the challenges and paradoxes ingrained in this 'local' tourism movement.

<http://www.atlas-euro.org/Default.aspx?TabID=280>

ATLAS Africa conference 2019

Makerere University
Kampala, Uganda
June 2019

Information will be available soon. If you would like to show your interest in this event, please contact us.

admin@atlas-euro.org

Best wishes,
Leontine Onderwater
Jantien Veldman
ATLAS
POBox 109
6800 AC Arnhem
The Netherlands
Tel: +31-20-8932166
Fax: +31-26-8700143

ATLAS online bookshop at <http://shop.atlas-euro.org>